Statement of Commitment

The Pickering Public Library is committed to accessibility for all its' clients by creating accessible facilities, programs and services, based on the principles of universal access; removing existing barriers for persons with both visible and non-visible disabilities, and providing information and training to create an environment of inclusion within the Library.

Definitions

1. Assistive Device

Any device designed or adapted to assist a person to perform a particular task or procedure. This may include but is not limited to crutches, walkers, wheelchairs, personal sound amplification devices, technological or computerized devices, etc.

2. Disability

A disability is any degree of physical disability, infirmity, malformation or disfigurement that is caused by bodily injury, disability since birth, or illness and without limiting the foregoing, includes diabetes, epilepsy, brain injury, any degree of paralysis, amputation, lack of physical coordination, blindness or visual impediment, deafness or hearing impediment, muteness or speech impediment, or physical reliance on a service animal, wheelchair or other remedial appliance or device.

A disability might also be: a condition of mental impairment or a developmental disability; a learning disability, or dysfunction in one or more of the processes involved in understanding or using symbols or spoken language; a mental disorder; an injury or disability for which benefits were claimed or received under the insurance plan established under the Workplace Safety and Insurance Act, 1997.

3. Clients

Library clients can be library staff, Board members, citizens and visitors to the Library, volunteers and agents recognized by the Library, and all community stakeholders.

General

The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) was enacted in 2005 in order to facilitate the development of specific standards with respect to improving accessibility across the province. Ontario's first accessibility standard, the Customer Service Standard, came into effect on January 1, 2008.

The Integrated Accessibility Standards (IAS) came into effect on July 1, 2011. These included the Information and Communications Standards.

The Design of Public Spaces Standards (Accessibility Standards for the Built Environment) is an amendment to the IAS and came into effect on January 1, 2013.

The Pickering Public Library will make reasonable efforts to ensure that its policies, practices and procedures are consistent with the core principles of the standards: dignity, independence, integration except when alternate measures are necessary to meet the needs of persons with disabilities.

Dignity and independence – interaction with all individuals will be in a manner that respects the dignity and independence of persons with disabilities. It includes consideration of how any accommodation is provided and the individual's own participation in the process.

Integration – achieving full participation for persons with disabilities requires barrier free and inclusive design and removal of existing barriers, whether they are physical, sensory, developmental or systemic. Preventing and removing barriers means that persons with disabilities will be able to access opportunities provided by the Library in areas of service and programs.

There are occasions when customer service must be provided using alternate measures that are not integrated. Alternate measures will only be employed when they cannot be integrated and are the only means of providing customer service to a person with a disability.

Policy Principles

Training

Staff are trained on how to provide customer service to people with disabilities in accordance with the core principles of the accessibility standards. Training will be delivered to any Board member, volunteer or any other individual who might reasonably be expected to interact with the public on behalf of the Library or influence the development of policies, practices and procedures. A form of training will be provided to individuals or groups as soon as practicable after that individual or group is assigned with their duties. Any substantive amendment to policy, practice or procedures with respect to the provision of accessible customer service may also necessitate further training.

Communication

The Pickering Public Library recognizes that access to information and the ability to communicate clearly are essential in our society.

The Pickering Public Library will create, provide and receive information and communications in consultation with and in ways that are accessible for persons with disabilities. Such accommodations will be in accordance with the requirements of the Information and Communications section of the Integrated Accessibility Standards, Ontario Regulation 191/11.

Website

The Library's website is accessible. It currently conforms to WCAG 2.0 Level AA. The Library's website uses a pre-set font type and size for optimal layout, but the font can be adjusted by clients to meet their specific needs. Information is readily available in HTML format with Adobe PDF as the standard for documents, forms and reports. The Library is committed to the use of World Wide Web Consortium (W3c.org) best practice technologies when they are available and appropriate for a task and to using the latest versions when supported.

Print Material

The Pickering Public Library uses Arial 12 point for its official documents, correspondence, reports, minutes, etc.

Alternate Formats for Printed Documents

The Library will provide any document produced by the Library in an alternate format upon request, unless it is not technically feasible to do so, and subject to the Municipal Freedom of Information and Privacy Act. Alternate formats can include, but are not limited to web access, large print versions of the document or a text-only electronic file that can be read by a computer or printed in Braille.

Requests for information in alternate format will be sent to the Manager of Client Experience, Usha Siva at ushasiva@picnet.org or 905-831-6265 extension 6229. Library staff will make every effort to provide the information in the preferred format as soon as possible.

Accessible Library Materials

The Library will make a library collection, where they exist, available in an accessible format for clients. The Library has large print, audiobooks, and ebooks. Library staff would be pleased to assist clients find resources that meet their needs.

The Library is a member of the Centre for Equitable Library Access (CELA), a non-profit run by public libraries that leverages the existing collections of the CNIB. CELA has the largest collection of alternative format materials in Canada and provide clients with both digital and physical formats. Client with print disabilities can now register to access this collection at the Pickering Public Library and materials can be ordered and picked up at your local library branch. Daisy readers and a rotating collection of DAISY Talking Books are also available at the Central Library. For more information, contact Valerie Crease at valeriec@picnet.org or 905-831-6265 extension 6248.

Customer Service

The Pickering Public Library shall develop and implement customer service procedures which will reflect the principles of respect for the individual, independence, integration and equal access for all; and in accordance with the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service, Ontario Regulation 429/07.

Programming

To request Sign Language interpretation for Library programs you wish to attend, please contact the Manager of Client Experience, Usha Siva at ushasiva@picnet.org or 905-831-6265 extension 6229 to make arrangements. Due to the limited availability of trained Sign Language interpreters, a minimum three weeks' notice is required.

Notice of Temporary Disruptions

Public notices of service disruptions will be provided on the Library's website at Service Disruptions and Program Cancellations | Pickering Library and placed on our voicemail system at 905-831-6265. A notice will also be displayed on the premises where the disruption is occurring. Such public notices will let clients know when facilities, amenities or services are unavailable, the expected duration of this disruption and alternate services provided, if any.

Service Animals

Service animals are permitted in the Library. People requiring service animals may be required to confirm status of a service animal if its purpose is not immediately evident.

This requirement does not apply where an animal is excluded by law from being on the premises, or if the presence of the service animal adversely affects the health and safety of others. For example, regulations under the Health and Protection and Promotion Act, 1990 and Food Safety and Quality Act, 2001 prohibit animals from entering areas where food is prepared, stored or sold. Where a service animal is excluded by law, the Library will make reasonable efforts to ensure that goods and services can be provided by alternate means.

Support Persons

A support person is an individual hired or chosen by a person with a disability to provide services or assistance with communication, mobility, personal care, medical needs, or to assist with accessing services. People with disabilities are welcome to be accompanied by a support person in any area open to the public or to use any Library provided service. Reasonable efforts will be made to ensure that people with disabilities are not prevented from having access to their support person while on the premises. In some cases, it may be necessary for the support person to provide consent to rules specific to the service provided, such as confidentiality.

Design of Public Spaces Standards

The Pickering Public Library recognizes that the creation of an accessible environment is an essential component of full access and inclusion for persons with disabilities. The Library will endeavor to create safe, accessible facilities which provide equal access to programs and services provided by the Library.

The Pickering Public Library will use requirements of the Design of Public Spaces (accessibility Standards for the Built Environment Standards) and accessibility requirements of the Ontario Building Code as minimum standards and will seek to exceed these requirements, where reasonably possible, in order to create an accessible, inclusive community.

Feedback

The Library is committed using client feedback to enhance accessible service delivery. Comments can be submitted online at the Assistive Services | Pickering Library webpage or to the Manager of Client Experience, Usha Siva at ushasiva@picnet.org or 905-831-6265 extension 6229. Individuals may also provide feedback in person to library staff or in writing using paper comment forms. All feedback is monitored, tracked and responded to by public service staff, working with the relevant department. If a response is not immediately available, staff will confirm that the feedback has been received and indicate a timeline for response.
